* Citywide Mobility Plan 2035

Mobility Plan 2035 is Los Angeles' first comprehensive update of its transportation and mobility policies since the 1990s, creating a new policy foundation to complement and capitalize upon the nation's largest local investment in new transit infrastructure. The Plan seeks to create an integrated network, balancing the needs of all road users and guide the City's future mobility decisions, creating a comprehensive, integrated and connected network for all modes. The Plan incorporates new State requirements focused on Complete Streets, making the streets work for everyone – people who drive, people who walk, people who bike, and people who take transit.

The Plan is meant to be a citywide guide, but implementation at the community level will focus on each neighborhood's unique challenges and needs. While the Plan identifies a variety of policies and strategies it doesn't prescribe specific solutions for select corridors and/or intersections. The process will include conversations with community members and elected officials, and the examination of data to identify and learn more about specific community concerns. From there, a comprehensive package of improvements can be identified. Depending upon the unique characteristics of the area, the package could include the identification of improved off-street parking options, street calming improvements, wayfinding, improved cross-walks and an area shuttle bus.

The Final Environmental Impact Report and Staff Report were released in May, and now the Mobility Plan is headed to City Council after the July break. UNNC commented during the draft process, and now may prepare a Community Impact Statement on the Mobility Plan 2035. DISCUSSION AND ACTION
